Premiers Ask America to Become Sponsor for Armenia.

Declares No Other Power in Position To Do Work.

San Remo, April 20.—The council of premiers has decided to address President Wilson and the American people recommending that the United States offer financial support to Armenia.

The premiers, it was understood, will point out that America has been particularly interested in the new Armenian nation and that no other power is in position to aid its firm establishment.

The council's decision came after the League of Nations had declined to accept a mandate over Armenia. The league pointed out that its covenant does not provide necessary powers for exercising a mandate and that even had it the power to accept the mandate, it has no military or financial forces with which to insure protection of the new nation.

The premiers have outlined Armenia's borders roughly. It was understood, but have decided Trebizond shall remain Turkish.

All decisions regarding Cilicia (Asia Turkey) have been suspended for the present. Batum probably will be awarded to the new republic of Georgia with special facilities for handling an outlet to the Black sea.

STOPS PROFITEER PROSECUTION.

Federal Judge Allowed Detroit Fourteen Cent Milk Two Days.

Detroit, Mich., April 21.—Detroit consumers were paying 14 cents a quart for milk today following a two-day period of 14 cent milk.

Federal Judge Tuttle issued a restraining order preventing the United States district attorney from prosecuting dealers under section 4 of the Lever act. The section is too vague as to what constitutes a fair price, Tuttle held, and the fair price commission is an informal body without authority to enforce its ruling.

The application for the restraining order was filed by Detroit milk dealers.

Get Nine Trains of Sugar.

Chicago, April 21.—Orders for nine train loads of sugar, approximately 244,000 bags, released by the Canadian government, were placed today by a Chicago brokerage firm. The shipment is expected to arrive early next month.

for the four places. Some of them must step aside and the district delegation jobs at stake at home.

Send Woman to 'Frisco.

There seems to be a determination to send a woman to 'Frisco. Mrs. Corna Lewis of Topeka is being pushed for possibility. But Mrs. Lewis denied her party candidate status superintendent of public instruction in 1918 and the local Democrats are against her and don't mind saying so. In consequence there are possibilities in a list of a half dozen other prominent Democrat women in the state. Among them is Mrs. Anna B. Morrish, an Oberlin business woman and active Bourbon worker in the Sixth district.

The Hodges-Billard row is yet undecided. Hodges will fight the Billard fight and been resolution whenever it is presented. The former governor is also a candidate for a Big Four job. He has a considerable following. But none of it is from the Billard camp. The former Topeka mayor has never forgotten Hodges' Columbus speech in 1912.

Two Combinations.

One combination which seemed to be forming today provides for the selection of Hodges, Murphy and another. Another combination is Robert Blair, prominent Topeka lawyer and life-long Democrat, who has friends on almost every delegation which has come to Topeka. The defeat of Blair must come, if at all, as the result of some combination to beat him. His friends in the convention will fight to the finish for his election.

Wichita is getting away in great style with her advance arrangements for the convention. She won the big Bourbon show over Topeka because of better hotel facilities. But with some of the big federal offices located here and with the prospects that the state headquarters may come to this town, Wichita is giving her time and money to the entertainment of delegates.

Walter S. Hendon, premier booster and one of the most effective Democrat workers in the state, has been placed in charge of a $1,000 entertainment fund. Hendon is a past master in providing full value entertainment.

Choose State Ticket.

It is practically certain that a selective draft will be affected in choosing a state ticket. There are too many shy ones this year. In consequence the party workers may get together and make a selection with a view of naming some of the strong men in the party for the state house job—in event the Democrats again carried the state.

A number of the wise leaders here today predicted Jett Shouse of Kansas would be the high man in the voting. This contention was made by E. B. Murphy of Leavenworth, former state chairman and Big Four candidate, who himself claimed nearly 500 pledged delegates.

The convention to be held here Thursday to select twenty delegates and alternates to the national convention, will also nominate presidential electors and choose a national committee.

Sam Amidon is hoped to win another term as national committeeman without a fight. In only a few of the congressional districts have fights developed. There will be a real struggle over the first district.

Amidon's congressional district issues away from the convention, the industrial court fight is now seemingly out of the way.

THE DAY BEFORE

One sarcastic Republican stood in the Linsen lobby today and commented on the arrival of delegates. "This is the second meeting the postmasters have held this year," he remarked to the attendance at their banquet in Topeka in January.

But it isn't a really, truly postmaster gathering. There are the old followers to the federal party, the marshals and assistant marshals, district attorneys and collector and assistants. But also, there is a genuine gathering of the folks on foot government prosecution. Under the local Democrats. Many of them came to Wichita just to help save the country again.

Fred S. Robertson, United States district attorney, is here for the convention. He is pulling for his law partner, W. H. Thompson, former United States senator, who wants a Big Four place. Thompson made a record in the state senate in 1909-10 and was supported by the people.

Harry J. Bone as district attorney in 1913. He has made a big showing in his job as government prosecutor. Under the law, he asserts, will be flit with a governorship nomination this year.

Sam Amidon and his following may not force a fight on the industrial court act when the resolutions committee meets. There is distinct opposition to any expression regarding state politics at the convention to select national convention delegates.

All of the twenty delegates to the national convention will be named here Thursday. District conventions will be held preceding or immediately following the convention to select delegates at large. The Republicans named their Big Four at Salina, but selected district delegates in district conventions held in the eight districts.

The Democrats will also name their national committeemen Thursday. Republican until the delegates meet in Chicago in June. Sam Amidon of Wichita is generally expected to succeed the late Col. Bill Sapp of Kansas, who served as secretary of the state committee was held in Topeka in 1917.

J. B. Billard, former mayor of Topeka, admits his light while still beer resolution will be killed by the convention. But he doesn't intend to quit because prospects are not favorable. He will force the issue when the resolutions committee meets.

Mike Frey, Junction City postmaster and three times member of the legislature from Geary county, is here. But Frey has forsaken his red and is wearing the most sombre, conservative colors.

Representatives of the labor interests are here prepared for a hard fight before the resolutions committee in the demand for an act against the liquor trust. Rumors that the labor organization may put a third party ticket in the field are being circulated. Well versed party workers are here.
